

Geographic placement of EA infrastructure is a complicated equation.

Route planning models and geographic placement of infrastructure play a huge role in determine an EA implementation solution.

Proper analysis of air traffic throughput is necessary to determine the scope and expanse of infrastructure development.