Major Companies see EA as a path towards sustainability and new markets.

Modern companies focus heavily on eliminating their impact on the environment as the world works towards carbon neutrality. The usage of Electric Aircraft in the logistics industry provides cost effective, carbon neutral transportation for short-haul package routes. But how will these planes interact with the modern airport?

ENGR 408